REVIEW and GIVEAWAY: Crafty Cooking Kits distributed by Me Myself and Us Inc.

I LOVE to BAKE and do CRAFTS with my kids so Crafty Cooking Kits are right up my alley!

Crafty Cooking Kits are:

- delicious
- fun and creative
- educational (reinforces language skills, math, measurement, following instructions)
- in kits which include: Everyday, Seasonal, and Deluxe packages
- great for home use, loot bags, gifts, play-dates, and fundraisers at schools, day cares, organizations, leagues
- made in the USA and guaranteed

Everything is included in the kits to have fun and create such as the mixtures, pans, cookie cutters, icings, decorations and interactive, VERY easy to follow instructions (broken down into adult and child directions!). All you need to do is add basic ingredients such as eggs, butter, water, oil etc.

The price of the kits range from $10.95 up to $24.95 for the deluxe kits and all kits are HST exempt.

I was sent three kits to try out with my family:

Spring Rainbow Cookie Kit

Step into spring and spend time as a family. Create colourful springtime snacks. Sweet memories will last long after the Spring Rainbow Cookies are gone! Kit includes, sugar cookie mix, 3 colours to make Rainbow Cookies, Directions and Activities. Just add eggs and butter for a fun easy recipe!

My kids were SO excited to make these kits together! They wouldn't stop asking me about them until we did one! When the day finally came, they were practically shaking with excitement. You would think that I never did fun things with them (I was a Kindergarten teacher prior to becoming a SAHM and I regularly bake with them as well as doing crafts!).

The kits come with wonderful, easy to follow instructions that are separated for adults and kids. The only part that I had difficulty following (just slightly) was the measurement of butter with one of the kits (being 12 Tablespoons instead of 3/4 cups) - I had to do the conversion myself because there was NO way that I was going to stand there and measure out 12 TBSP of butter while my overly eager children watched in anticipation!

These kits are so much fun! They are perfect for a birthday party (which I chose to do for one of them), a rainy day or even a play date. There is something that makes it super exciting for the children when all of the fun is wrapped up in a colourful cardboard box with fun samples shown on the outside.

So, if you like fun, you don't mind a bit of a mess and you like watching your children having a terrific time, I'd say that you should definitely check out these kits.

You might get lucky and come across one of these kits in your travels, but if you don't, you can check out the website MeMyselfandUs the Canadian Distributor. You can contact them if you want to find out where you can buy kits in your area.

Would you like to win your own Spring Crafty Cooking Kit?
